OWEN'S RECORD IS CITED BY BROUGH

By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Gov. Charles H. Brough of Arkansas, seconding the nomination of Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma yesterday, said:

"Arkansas, the sister commonwealth of Oklahoma, has noted with pride the achievements of one of the southwest's greatest sons, who, by his constructive statesmanship in the United States senate during the past 13 years, richly merits the stately eulogy of Senator Conkling upon President Grant, 'Great is the arduous greatness of things done.'"

"The patriotic citizenship of the great southwest, believing that the next presidential contest will be one of issues and not one of sectional or geographical divisions, takes pride in presenting to this convention the name of a distinguished and constructive statesman, who was primarily responsible for the passage of the federal reserve act, the greatest piece of financial legislation ever placed on the statute books of any nation; the author of the federal farm loan act, under the beneficent provisions of which $500,000,000 already has been loaned to the farmers of our country at reasonable rates of interest; the president of the national popular government league of the United States, with a forward looking program advocating a cloture rule in the United States senate, designed to make this august body a practical workshop rather than a 'cave of the winds'; the short ballot, the preferential ballot and the initiative and referendum; the joint author of the federal child labor act; a great scholar and statesman, who has always lent his eloquent voice, his extensive training, his broad scholarship and his constructive statesmanship in support of the personality and policies of our matchless leader, President Woodrow Wilson."

"He hails from a land where the people are 'broad-backed, brown-handed, upright as their pines, and by the scale of a hemisphere shape their designs.' I take genuine pride and pleasure in seconding the nomination for the highest office within the gift of the greatest people on earth, of that eminent scholar, patriotic citizen and constructive statesman, who wears his conscience as his king and wears the white flower of a blameless private and public life, Senator Robert L. Owen."

MR M'ADOO HAD NOTHING TO SAY

By the Associated Press
HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 1.—Maintaining his silence, W. G. McAdoo, at his country home here today declined to be persuaded by newspaper men to make any comment on the activities of the democratic convention at San Francisco, where his name has been placed in nomination for the presidency.

"Mr. McAdoo says that he has nothing whatever to say," was the answer brought by the maid to the newspaper men, who had besieged the McAdoo home throughout the morning in a futile effort to interview the former secretary of the treasury.

Balloting Prospects Gone.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Prospects for balloting late today for a presidential candidate went glimmering, as the delegates to the democratic national convention assembled for the fourth day's session. A long bitter fight over the league of nations declaration in which the supporters of President Wilson were forced to accept an amendment to the administration plank, before it could be adopted, so delayed the work of the platform committee that there is little likelihood the delegates will get down to balloting before tomorrow.

The platform committee worked until nearly daylight this morning over the league plank and sought a few hours' rest before resuming deliberations at ten o'clock.

Kills Own Children.

CHICAGO, July 1.—Mrs. Margaret Emmerson, age 36, killed her three children this morning with a razor and then slashed her own throat. Mrs. Emmerson had been separated from her husband for a year.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

Milling around just like the men at the women's national committee headquarters. The most unique scene ever staged in the history of political conventions.

CITY OF CHICAGO KNOCKS WAGE RAISE

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 1.—The city council in passing the annual appropriation bill early today, voted down the proposed wage increases to city employees, which would have totaled more than five million dollars annually, according to opponents of the increases.

City officials declared that more than 2,000 city employees are now on strike or idle because of strikes growing out of wage controversies involved in the council discussions today.

Miners in Walkout.

By the Associated Press
CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 1.—Officials of the United Mine Workers of America announced here today that, while they had received only meager reports from Mingo county, West Virginia, and Pike county, Kentucky, as to the progress of the miners' strike, they predicted that 6,000 members of the union in the two counties would walk out before the close of the day.

INDEPENDENT REPUBLICAN

WINS OVER NON-PARTISAN

By the Associated Press
FARGO, N. D., July 1.—The first 435 scattered precincts out of 2064 in the state to report today from yesterday's primary election gave William Langer, independent republican candidate, 25,044 against 13,373 for Governor Lynn J. Frazier, Non-partisan League.

McSwain Theater

Receives Car of

Chairs for House

The new McSwain Theater received a car load of opera house chairs today and will begin installing the same at once. The new theater building is receiving the finishing touches, and with the arrival of the new chairs and other fittings it will be only a short time now until the theater will be ready for formal opening.

The scenery and stage fittings for the new theater have been in place several days now, and little remains to be done except the placing of the new chairs.

The public is anxiously awaiting the opening of this new house, for it is certain that as soon as the season opens for the big shows that the management will secure some of the best, and the theater going public will be given some unusual attraction.

Germany's Debt Appalling

By the Associated Press
BERLIN, June 30.—Germany's total debt is two hundred sixty-five billion marks, minister of finance Wirt, announced before the budget bill collectors, whose sole business committee of the Reichstag today, is to notify you of that fact.

POLISH FORCES ARE REPORTED AS WHIPPED

By the Associated Press
WARSAW, June 30.—Polish forces on the Bolshevik front have evacuated Mozir and Kalenkowitz, in Polesia, according to an official statement issued at army staff headquarters here today. This step was taken, it is said, for the purpose of shortening the front.

Soviet troops in the Bobruisk sector are re-grouping under cover of artillery fire, the statement says, but in the Kiszyn region the Poles have defeated a strong detachment of the enemy, capturing four cannons and a number of machine guns.

By the Associated Press

PARIS, July 1.—Attempts by the Russian Bolshevik forces to cross the Beresina river between the Bobruisk and Kiszyn have been repelled with heavy losses, according to an official statement received here by wireless today. The statement records the successful retirement of the Poles from Mozir and Kalenkowitz and says the Poles in counter attacks captured prisoners and machine guns.

NOW SWEARS BY BUDDHA INSTEAD OF CHRISTIAN GOD

By the Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, July 1.—Permission to swear by Buddha instead of God and the Holy Apostles was granted by the superior court of Corwoba the other day to a young law student of agnostic belief when he took the oath of membership in the Argentine bar. He sought first to take the oath "by my country and my honor," but the court informed him that he would be obliged to take a "religious oath."

The student, it is related, thereupon went to a library and began a profound study of the world's religions, on which he spent several days. He then returned to the court and informed the learned judges he had found that the Buddhist religion was "the most moral and most complete" and asked permission to take oath upon it. The judges consulted musty tomes of Argentine law and decided that there was nothing to exclude him from taking such an oath.

Last night the prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church, led by Doctor Patterson, was a very inspiring service. Those who miss these services are missing something worth while.

Boy Scouts Are Hunting English Sparrows Today

The Boy Scouts of Ada troop were out bright and early this morning visiting the various residences in South Ada and asked permission to climb upon porches to get bird nests that have been made in the roofs.

The boys stated that the organization were giving away prizes to all who secure 100 nests or equally as many bird eggs. This is a very good move as it will be means of eliminating chances of fire which is caused by the grass nests built by English sparrows, a bird that is very common in this country.

The boys are getting their organization well perfected and will begin to take hikes to the country soon. Aside from the pleasures derived by being a member, the Boy Scouts assist in anything that is becoming of a real American boy.

Presidential Bets

It was McAdoo vs. the field today. Managers of all rival aspirants for the democratic presidential nomination declared the first business of the convention when balloting began was to block McAdoo. Leaders of big camps opposing the former secretary of the treasury said their greatest weakness lay in their inability to form a definite alliance though they hope an arrangement of this sort might be effected before the day was over. The organization of Gov. Cox, however, declared that the formation of a special block to beat McAdoo was unnecessary as there were enough anti-McAdoo delegates already to insure his defeat without the aid of centralized leadership.

You don't need a calendar to know when the first of the month comes. All you have to do is to go out on the streets of Ada and you will be accosted by a contingent of anti-McAdoo delegates already to insure his defeat without the aid of centralized leadership.

The Normal Students

If you want to see what is probably the finest body of young men and young women—mostly young women—ever assembled together in this part of the nation, go out to the Normal school and attend assembly some Wednesday morning from nine to ten.

Pretty, intelligent and well behaved, in the main, this aggregation of nearly nine hundred girls and women who are to train the minds of Oklahoma's youth and help shape the destinies of the coming generation, when assembled together, make a picture that is not only pleasing to the eye but one that gives inspiration for great hopes of the future.

Not only that but the demeanor of this happy student body has been almost one hundred per cent perfect this session. You can count on the fingers of one hand the number of this great body that have required discipline. Not even a breath of suspicion has escaped the mouths of any but the few long tongued hypocrites and gossipers who, themselves, live in glass houses, and these are unavailing against the character of girls who make up the student body of this session.

This is not only a compliment to the moral atmosphere of this city, the home of the school, but it speaks untold volumes for the standard of Oklahoma's teaching profession and for the faculty in charge of the East Central State Normal.

Ada appreciates this institution, and the fathers and mothers throughout the state who are patrons of it will appreciate the record it is making and the effort it is putting forth in the interest of their children and loved ones.

Daily Oklahoman Betrayed By Disgruntled Ex-Employee

By Walter M. Harrison,
Managing Editor the Oklahoman.

Monday morning the home edition of the Daily Oklahoman carried an article headed "Amende Honorable" on the editorial page which purported to be an apology by the editorial management of the Daily Oklahoman for attacking Senator Gore for calling our soldiers on the Mexican border "sunshine soldiers," for his letters written to Oklahomans who were attempting to evade the draft, and for his resolution to prevent Americans from traveling on armed ships during the war.

The article referred to never passed through the hands nor under the eye of a responsible employee of the Daily Oklahoman and was smuggled clandestinely, by a disgruntled, discharged and dishonorable former employee of the Daily Oklahoman, who was seen in conference with men associated with the Gore campaign headquarters within twenty-four hours previous to the publication of the pseudo-apology. When this man was searched at the police station yesterday when he was picked up for being intoxicated he had $550 in currency and a Colt's automatic in his pocket.

Knowing the head marks in common use in the composing room, knowing the detailed manner of copy marking and editing in vogue, it was a comparatively easy matter for the enemy of the Daily Oklahoman to drop the poison into the copy basket in the composing room, beyond the eye of the supervising editor, properly slugged and edited. Only type marks known to the office force were used. To evade the managing editor, whose habit it is to leave the office early on Sunday evening, the copy was sent in late, and slugged "home edition." The statement was not caught until the presses had begun to run on the final edition and hundreds of copies were in the mails, too late to be recalled.

The Daily Oklahoman resents with every power of expression the cheap political trickery and the treacherous usurpation of authority, which coupled with the weak and venomous nature of a revengeful former employee, shaped a dastardly coup that surely will prove to be a boomerang in the Gore campaign. The Daily Oklahoman apologizes to the patriotic public for the lack of vision that its managing editor displayed in ever trusting for a minute a man so thoroughly disloyal, but the Daily Oklahoman has no apology to make for its campaign against Senator Gore, who misrepresented the state of Oklahoma when this nation was at grips with Germany.

The Daily Oklahoman believes that Senator Gore should be retired from public life because he chose Vardaman, LaFollette and Hardwick as his associates in legislation rather than stand with the great majority that was for efficiency in that meant speed and efficiency in the war against the arch enemy of civilization.

Senator Gore not only called our soldiers "sunshine patriots" when he spoke and voted against the bill to increase their pay from $15 to $30 a month, but later in speaking against the draft bill he referred to them as "conscript slackers" and as an earnest of his unchanged attitude toward the citizen soldiery of the republic, last week he personally attacked Ray Weems of Sallisaw, a member of the A. E. F., a member of the American legion, calling him a "feather legged slacker" and a "bomb proof soldier."

The following extract is taken from the Congressional Record of June 24, 1916, the first session of the Sixty-fourth congress and the words are in the mouth of Gore:

"Shall we treat these soldiers as milkops and mollycoddles? Shall we send with these soldiers their valets, chiropodists, and manicurists to attend them? Shall we then by implication convey the idea that they are summer soldiers; that they are sunshine patriots; that they are knights of the drawing room?"

Gore's utterance was caused by a movement to increase the soldier's pay from $15 to $30 a month and to grant a paltry pittance to their dependants while the fighting men were facing fire.

Gore's armed ship resolution was as bad as his vote against the draft, as bad as his vote to tie up the money appropriated to prosecute the war, as bad as his hope to delay the raising of an army by forcing the country to a referendum on the question after the congress had decided. Here are extracts from Gore's resolution:

"It is the sense of congress * * * that all persons owing allegiance to the United States should * * * forbear to exercise the right to travel as passengers upon any armed vessel * * *"

The senator in his paid advertising and in his speeches, is explaining that this resolution intended only to keep Americans off of "men-of-war." Note that the resolution admits the right of Americans to travel as passengers on any armed vessel. Is the war so far in the past that the voters of Oklahoma do not remember that the submarine atrocities had caused the allies to put rifles for and aft on every passenger ship for defensive purposes, to shoot down the marauders that slew hundreds of men, women and children? No ship sailed without protecting rifles. Every ship was an armed ship.

Gore's resolution shut the seas against Americans. It would have hoisted the white flag of cowardice to Germany, it would have told Germany that we were afraid that she would commit an act of war, that she might sink a ship with Americans aboard and that we would deny ourselves the rights of a free people.

ALL FORCES JOIN HANDS TO PUT McADOO OUT OF THE RACE — EVIDENT THAT WILSON FORCES ARE IN SADDLE; THIS MAY MEAN NAMING A "DARK HORSE."

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Today's Democrat convention program:

Met at 11:00.

Prayer by the Rev. Josiah Sibley, Calvary Presbyterian Church, San Francisco.

Resumption of call of states for presentation of presidential candidates.

Name of John W. Davis, West Virginia, ambassador to Great Britain, to be presented.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—A plank dealing with the League of Nations was adopted by the Democrat platform committee early this morning. A long bitter fight so delayed the platform workers that the committee recessed until 10 o'clock. Leaders hoped to have the platform ready for the convention this afternoon.

In the treaty battle the administration failed to secure adoption of its plank without amendment. The committee by a vote of 32 to 18 adopted an addition by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, among those opposing the administration forces providing for ratification of the treaty of Versailles, with reservations consistent with American obligations.

The substitute planks of William Jennings Bryan and Senator Pomeroy of Ohio and Walsh of Montana were thrown out.

The committee adopted the labor and several other minor planks, but were so fatigued that they ceased work without taking up the liquor, Irish or other controverted questions.

The committee also put its approval on a declaration for legislation which would permit elective bargaining by farmers.

On the prohibition issues the sub-committee made no recommendation and a big grist of proposed wet and dry proposals were offered with Mr. Bryan leading the dries in a determined crusade to keep the party from making a wet declaration or remaining silent on the prohibition issues.

By the Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Frankly admitting that William G. McAdoo seems to have the inside track on the race for the nomination, the inner circle of old line democrat leaders worked through the night devising means to stop the nomination and find a candidate who could command the necessary two thirds vote.

Champ Clark, former speaker of the house of representatives, who was denied the nomination at the Baltimore convention after repeatedly having received a majority, was being discussed by the old line leaders as a possibility about whom they might rally. The answer of the McAdoo people to that move was that, if an inner circle combination forestalled the nomination of the former secretary of the treasury, there would be disclosed another coalition which would produce a Wilson-backed darkhorse, who could make enough accession to win.

Managers for Cox and Palmer, when they figured in these discussions, invariably demanded to be shown that their candidates were out of the running. Former representative Carlin, Palmer's chief of staff, refused to concede that the attorney general could not be nominated and E. H. Moore, the Cox field marshal, said:

"This may be a grasshopper convention, but I haven't been informed as yet that any of the Cox delegates are going to jump."

By the Associated Press

AUDITORIUM, July 1.—At 11:20 o'clock Chairman Robinson called the democratic national convention to order for its fourth day's session. Whole sections in the state places were still unoccupied in some parts of the hall. The delegates who were present wanted to talk rather than come to order and Chairman Robinson had to do some vigorous whacking to bring them to order.

Galleries filled early in expectation of a showy fight on the platform. The delegates came more slowly and at 11, the hour set for resuming the convention, the floor was only partly filled with chatting members.

New Mexico, first on the call, simply seconded the nomination of William G. McAdoo. It was the signal for the demonstration, which started in the galleries and spread to some delegates on the floor, but did not last long.

North Carolina sent W. C. Newland to the platform to place in nomination Senator Simmons, for whom the North Carolina delegation were instructed.

Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann of

WEATHER

Tonight and Friday partly cloudy with increasing cloudiness.

California, made a seconding speech for Senator Simmons, merely saying:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the convention: I rise to second the nomination of Senator Simmons of North Carolina."

North Carolina passed and Oregon announced that the delegates joined the movement to draft the Honorable William G. McAdoo. The McAdoo boomers, helped out by the band, gave the signal for another brief demonstration.

Rhode Island passed, so did South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, and Utah announced that it seconded the nomination of McAdoo.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Overnight conferences of the forces seeking to effect a combination to defeat the nomination of William G. McAdoo failed to reach an agreement on a candidate and their only accomplishment seemed to be a stiffening of determination to hold solid, if possible, a veto block of votes.

As the counter move to meet the combination against McAdoo, administration forces were scouting for a "dark horse" of their own, who could break the combination if it proved effective.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, Senator Glass of Virginia and John W. Davis, Ambassador to Great Britain, were all formally presented to the democratic national convention as presidential candidates during the first hour of its session today.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1.—Convention members of the committee expressed the hope that they will be able to make a report to the convention late today, but as a fight is in prospect in the committee on the prohibition and Irish questions, and with another battle on the floor of the convention over these planks and the league of nations, leaders in control of the convention have stopped figuring as to when the first ballot would be taken. Balloting will not begin until the platform has been adopted.

By the Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS, July 1.—Street car traffic was at a standstill here early today as a result of the strike of 3,000 employees of the New Orleans Railroad & Light company, which went into effect at midnight after the failure of union workers and the federal receiver of the company to reach an agreement.

Deputy United States marshals were on guard at the car barns and power plants today. Soldiers stationed at the Jackson barracks will be called out in the event serious violence is threatened it was announced.

THINK ABOUT IT

Very often people are fortunate enough to buy second-hand articles at a fraction of their real value which serve a better purpose and are really more suitable for the special use desired than brand new and expensive articles would be.

Indeed, there are many almost priceless antiques that have been sold "for a song" when their owners were suddenly confronted with the need of ready cash. Many people, too, possess things which they would like to exchange for others.

In the News want columns appear many opportunities to obtain splendid bargains in just those second-hand articles which you have long desired. Keeping Relief Cock Closed

A relief cock with a handle that is up when the valve is closed is liable to work open if the plug loosens through wear. The best way to remedy such a trouble is to buy a new one with a spring to keep the plug tight as it wears. All boys interested in joining the scouts may get all the information that they want by talking to some of the boys in Troop 1.

About the Camping Trip.

In about four weeks the boy scouts of Troop 1 are going to take a trip to some suitable place and camp out for a week or two.

All members that have passed their tenderfoot tests will be allowed to go. The boys who go will be expected to strictly obey orders and no uncalled for roughness will be endured. Each scout will be placed on his honor to follow all rules and regulations and this will insure good conduct in camp.

The expenses of the trip will be met by the scouts and the funds in the treasury. The camp will be carried on in an orderly manner and every precaution to prevent accidents will be taken. This will enable all boys to have the best time possible.

Just think! There will be swimming, boating, scouting and eating. Much time will be spent in passing the tests and it is expected to return with several first class scouts and no one lower than a second class scout. Other things that are necessary to make a camp successful will be taken up. Games will be played, hikes will be taken and woodcraft will be studied. No one will be slighter and all will be given a hand in things. In fact this will be the greater opportunity to have a good time that will offer itself to you this year. Better take advantage of it, because you may be sorry after it is too late.

We hope to make this the greatest outing ever held by the scouts of Ada.

Next Sunday evening the scouts will take their supper and spend the evening in the woods. All who want to go may do so. Plans for this trip will be made at the meeting Friday night.

Tests—First Class.

All scouts who have passed their second class tests are expected to get busy and pass the first class tests. We need several first class scouts now and it is your duty to be one of them if possible. We have a scout council now and tests for merit badges can be taken. The best opportunity for this is during the outing.

Wake up boys! Come to the meeting Friday night as it may be the last meeting this summer and it will do you good to be with the

Lived in This City For Fifteen Years; Makes First Trip Out

One of the most remarkable incidents that has occurred in this city for some time came to light when Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Williams left today for New York City.

Mr. Williams has lived in this city for fifteen years and has never made a trip out of town in this time. He made two trips to the edge of the corporation several years ago, but it is an assured fact that he never lost view to the city that he called home.

Mr. Williams is one of Ada's most successful business men, having been engaged in wholesale candy business here for a number of years and is well known over the entire country.

He will spend something like three months in the city of New York on strictly a "pleasure trip" and from all accounts he is deserving of a few months of recreation.

Does it Pay to Advertise?

We must vote "yes" on this question. In the issues of Monday and Tuesday the below classified advertisement was handed to a News reporter at the normal for publication. The ad appeared in the above mentioned issues and this morning a gentleman from the Byrd's Mill community brought the oxford into this office, stating that he had read the ad in the News and was returning the property to its owner.

LOST—Saturday night, ladies' brown oxford, between Byrd's Mill and Ada; reward, Phone 997. This little ad cost the owner only 50c for the two insertions, and the property recovered was valued at $14.00. Again we say that an investment in printer's ink is sure and is a proposition where the investor gets immediate results. Many such incidents occur daily which prove that the circulation of the News covers this country like a blanket, which insures country-wide publicity. Again we advise invest in printer's ink.

"The Old Man."

Once upon a time
In a sunny clime
Lived a little boy,
So cheerful and free,
He soon came to be,
The pride of his mother.

Toiling with his father's throng
He grew to be tall and strong,
Like Lincoln.
His hair so bright and red,
Grew on his big long head,
But his neck was longer.

When still a younger man,
He thought of a shrewd plan,
And crossed the Alleghenies,
He was no coward,
Like John Howard,

But for "Old Glory" he would fight.
In many a wild bear chase,
With old Glory wrapped around his waist,

He charged and won.
His life was all he had to give
And in his life he tried to live
A life for God and won.

When a very old man,
He thought of another plan,
But his heart failed him, and he died.

Back o'er the mountain line,
Back in the sunny clime,
They buried him.

Now the old man's story clear,
Friday evening, he came here,
(Like a fish.)

His story is told now and then,
Sometimes written with in and pen.

By his friends,
The old man is dead;
His hair so red no longer can be seen.

But all of his friends
And all his fellow men,
See that his grave is kept green.
He is dead, his life is over,
Like all good men when they reach the other shore,

Their spirit lives here after them,
Though buried in that sunny
clime.

Across that rugged mountain line
His work, his noble deeds,
His unchanging love for freedom's starry flag,

Lives in the hearts of others after him.

Stone.

For the 4th, 5th and 6th grades.

A goal is marked off at each end of the ground. The players form a circle between the two goals.
One player is chosen to be the stone and sits very still in the middle of the circle, while the players walk around clapping their hands as they go. When the stone chases them they run towards either goal. If the stone tags them before reaching the goal, they become stones and must go into the circle and sit down with the first stone.

The circle players again skip about the circle; no stone must move until the first stone runs, then, all give chase and try to catch the players. The game con-

Assembly

This morning a special assembly was held in the auditorium. President M. L. Perkins told the story of "Putting Your Head in the Lion's Mouth," which was beautiful and appreciated by all present.

The story portrayed Sampson as being a man who following his passion of strength to ruin rather than to the ideals of reason. Dr.
Perkins modernized this story and related the many ways in which the present generation are becoming unnatural and doing things that are not reasonable.

Following this most splendid talk
Mr. M. L. McNash, secretary of the State Teacher's Association made an address and received liberal applause throughout the period of his talk. Mr. McNash has been Chief-Inspector of high schools for this state and is noted to be a good school man.

He will remain in this city tomorrow and do some special work in interest of the teacher's association.

Special musical numbers were on the program of the meeting this morning, which was one of the best we have had the pleasure of attending for some time.

OWEN'S RECORD IS CITED BY BROUGH

By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Gov. Charles H. Brough of Arkansas, seconding the nomination of Senator Robert L. Owen of Oklahoma yesterday, said:

"Arkansas, the sister commonwealth of Oklahoma, has noted with pride the achievements of one of the southwest's greatest sons, who, by his constructive statesmanship in the United States senate during the past 13 years, richly merits the stately eulogy of Senator Conkling upon President Grant. 'Great is the arduous greatness of things done.'"

"The patriotic citizenship of the great southwest, believing that the next presidential contest will be one of issues and not one of sectional or geographical divisions, takes pride in presenting to this convention the name of a distinguished and constructive statesman, who was primarily responsible for the passage of the federal reserve act, the greatest piece of financial legislation ever placed on the statute books of any nation; the author of the federal farm loan act, under the beneficent provisions of which $500,000,000 already has been loaned to the farmers of our country at reasonable rates of interest; the president of the national popular government league of the United States, with a forward looking program advocating a cloture rule in the United States senate, designed to make this august body a practical workshop rather than a 'cave of the winds'; the short ballot, the preferential ballot and the initiative and referendum; the joint author of the federal child labor act; a great scholar and statesman, who has always lent his eloquent voice, his extensive training, his broad scholarship and his constructive statesmanship in support of the personality and policies of our matchless leader, President Woodrow Wilson."

"He hails from a land where the people are 'broad-backed, brown-handed, upright as their pines, and by the scale of a homestead shape their designs.' I take genuine pride and pleasure in seconding the nomination for the highest office within the gift of the greatest people on earth, of that eminent scholar, patriotic citizen and constructive statesman, who wears his conscience as his king and wears the white flower of a blameless private and public life, Senator Robert L. Owen."

MR M'ADOO HAD NOTHING TO SAY

By the Associated Press
HUNTINGTON, N. Y., July 1. — Maintaining his silence, W. G. McAdoo, at his country home here today declined to be persuaded by newspaper men to make any comment on the activities of the democratic convention at San Francisco, where his name has been placed in nomination for the presidency.

"Mr. McAdoo says that he has nothing whatever to say," was the answer brought by the maid to the newspaper men, who had beset the McAdoo home throughout the morning in a futile effort to interview the former secretary of the treasury.

Balloting Prospects Good.

By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Prospects for balloting late today for a presidential candidate went glimmering, as the delegates to the democratic national convention assembled for the fourth day's session. A long bitter fight over the league of nations declaration in which the supporters of President Wilson were forced to accept an amendment to the administration plank, before it could be adopted, so delayed the work of the platform committee that there is little likelihood the delegates will get down to balloting before tomorrow.

The platform committee worked until nearly daylight this morning over the league plank and sought a few hours' rest before resuming deliberations at ten o'clock.

CITY OF CHICAGO KNOCKS WAGE RAISE

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, July 1. — The city council in passing the annual appropriation bill early today, voted down the proposed wage increases to city employees, which would have totaled more than five million dollars annually, according to opponents of the increases.

City officials declared that more than 2,000 city employees are now on strike or idle because of strikes growing out of wage controversies involved in the council discussions today.

Miners in Walkout.

By the Associated Press
CHARLESTON, W. McSwain Theater Receives Car of Chairs for House

The new McSwain Theater received a car load of opera house chairs today and will begin installing the same at once. The new theater building is receiving the finishing touches, and with the arrival of the new chairs and other fittings it will be only a short time now until the theater will be ready for formal opening.

The scenery and stage fittings for the new theater have been in place several days now, and little remains to be done except the placing of the new chairs.

The public is anxiously awaiting the opening of this new house, for it is certain that as soon as the season opens for the big shows that the management will secure some of the best, and the theater going public will be given some unusual attraction.

By the Associated Press
WARSAW, June 30. — Polish forces on the Bolshevik front have evacuated Mozir and Kalenkowitz, in Polesia, according to an official statement issued at army staff headquarters here today. This step was taken, it is said, for the purpose of shortening the front.

NOW SWEARS BY BUDDHA INSTEAD OF CHRISTIAN GOD

By the Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, July 1. — Permission to swear by Buddha instead of God and the Holy Apostles was granted by the superior court of Cordoba the other day to a young law student of agnostic belief when he took the oath of membership in the Argentine bar. He sought first to take the oath "by my country and my honor," but the court informed him that he would be obliged to take a "religious oath."

The student, it is related, thereupon went to a library and began a profound study of the world's religions, on which he spent several days. He then returned to the court and informed the learned judges he had found that the Buddhist religion was "the most moral and most complete" and asked permission to take oath upon it. The judges consulted musty tomes of Argentine law and decided that there was nothing to exclude him from taking such an oath.

Boy Scouts Are Hunting English Sparrows Today

The Boy Scouts of Ada troop were out bright and early this morning visiting the various residences in South Ada and asked permission to climb upon porches to get bird nests that have been made in the roofs.

The boys stated that the organization were giving away prizes to all who secure 100 nests or equally as many bird eggs. This is a very good means of fire which is caused by the grass nests built by English sparrows, a bird that is very common in this country.

The boys are getting their organization well perfected and will begin to take hikes to the country soon. Aside from the pleasures derived by being a member, the Boy Scouts assist in anything that is becoming of a real American boy.

Presidential Bets

It was McAdoo vs. the field today. Managers of all rival aspirants for the democratic presidential nomination declared the first business of the convention when balloting began was to block McAdoo. Leaders of big camps opposing the former secretary of the treasury said their greatest weakness lay in their inability to form a definite alliance though they hope an arrangement of this sort might be effected before the day was over. The organization of Gov. Cox, however, declared that the formation of a special block to beat McAdoo was unnecessary as there were enough anti-McAdoo delegates already to insure his defeat without the aid of centralized leadership.

You don't need a calendar to know when the first of the month comes. All you have to do is to go out on the streets of Ada and you will be accosted by a contingent of bill collectors, whose sole business is to notify you of that fact.

The Normal Students

If you want to see what is probably the finest body of young men and young women—mostly young women—ever assembled together in this part of the nation, go out to the Normal school and attend assembly some Wednesday morning from nine to ten.

Pretty, intelligent and well behaved, in the main, this aggregation of nearly nine hundred girls and women who are to train the minds of Oklahoma's youth and help shape the destinies of the coming generation, when assembled together, make a picture that is not only pleasing to the eye but one that gives inspiration for great hopes of the future.

Not only that but the demeanor of this happy student body has been almost one hundred per cent perfect this session. You can count on the fingers of one hand the number of this great body that have required discipline. Not even a breath of suspicion has escaped the mouths of any but the few long tongued hypocrites and gossipers who, themselves, live in glass houses, and these are unavailing against the character of girls who make up the student body of this session.

This is not only a compliment to the moral atmosphere of this city, the home of the school, but it speaks untold volumes for the standard of Oklahoma's teaching profession and for the faculty in charge of the East Central State Normal.

Ada appreciates this institution, and the fathers and mothers throughout the state who are patrons of it will appreciate the record it is making and the effort it is putting forth in the interest of their children and loved ones.

Daily Oklahoman Betrayed By Disgruntled Ex-Employe

By Walter M. Harrison,
Managing Editor of the Oklahoman.

Monday morning the home edition of the Daily Oklahoman carried an article headed "Amende Honorable" on the editorial page which purported to be an apology by the editorial management of the Daily Oklahoman for attacking Senator Gore for calling our soldiers on the Mexican border "sunshine soldiers," for his letters written to Oklahomans who were attempting to evade the draft, and for his resolution to prevent Americans from traveling on armed ships during the war.

The article referred to never passed through the hands nor under the eye of a responsible employe of the Daily Oklahoman and was smuggled clandestinely, by a disgruntled, discharged and dishonorable former employe of the Daily Oklahoman, who was seen in conference with men associated with the Gore campaign headquarters within twenty-four hours previous to the publication of the pseudo-apology. When this man was searched at the police station yesterday when he was picked up for being intoxicated he had $550 in currency and a Colt's automatic in his pocket.

Knowing the head marks in common use in the composing room, knowing the detailed manner of copy marking and editing in vogue, it was a comparatively easy matter for the enemy of the Daily Oklahoman to drop the poison into the copy basket in the composing room, beyond the eye of the supervising editor, properly slugged and edited. Only type marks known to the office force were used. To evade the managing editor, whose habit it is to leave the office early on Sunday evening, the copy was sent in late, and slugged "home edition." The statement was not caught until the presses had begun to run on the final edition and hundreds of copies were in the mails, too late to be recalled.

The Daily Oklahoman resents with every power of expression the cheap political trickery and the treacherous usurpation of authority, which coupled with the weak and venomous nature of a revengeful former employe, shaped a dastardly coup that surely will prove to be a boomerang in the Gore campaign.

The Daily Oklahoman apologizes to the patriotic public for the lack of vision that its managing editor displayed in ever trusting for a minute a man so thoroughly disloyal, but the Daily Oklahoman has no apology to make for its campaign against Senator Gore, who misrepresented the state of Oklahoma when this nation was at grips with Germany.

The Daily Oklahoman believes that Senator Gore should be retired from public life because he chose Vardaman, LaFollette and Hardwick as his associates in legislation rather than stand with the great majority that was for efficiency in that meant speed and efficiency in the war against the arch enemy of civilization.

Senator Gore not only called our soldiers "sunshine patriots" when he spoke and voted against the bill to increase their pay from $15 to $30 a month, but later in speaking against the draft bill he referred to them as "conscript slackers" and as an earnest of his unchanged attitude toward the citizen soldiery of the republic, last week he personally attacked Ray Weems of Sallisaw, a member of the A. E. F., a member of the American legion, calling him a "feather legged slacker" and a "bomb proof soldier."

The following extract is taken from the Congressional Record of June 24, 1916, the first session of the Sixty-fourth congress and the words are in the mouth of Gore:

"Shall we treat these soldiers as milk-sops and mollycoddles? Shall we send with these soldiers their valets, chiropodists, and manicurists to attend them? Shall we then by implication convey the idea that they are summer soldiers; that they are sunshine patriots; that they are knights of the drawing room?"

Gore's utterance was caused by a movement to increase the soldier's pay from $15 to $30 a month, and to grant a paltry gratuity to their dependants while the fighting men were facing fire.

Gore's armed ship resolution was as bad as his vote against the draft, as bad as his vote to tie up the money appropriated to prosecute the war, as bad as his hope to delay the raising of an army by forcing the country to a referendum on the question after the congress had decided. Here are extracts from Gore's resolution:

"It is the sense of congress * * * that all persons owing allegiance to the United States should * * * forbear to exercise the right to travel as passengers upon any armed vessel * * *"

The senator in his paid advertising and in his speeches, is explaining that this resolution intended only to keep Americans off of "men-of-war." Note that the resolution admits the right of Americans to travel as passengers on any armed vessel. Is the war so far in the past that the voters of Oklahoma do not remember that the submarine atrocities had caused the allies to put rifles fore and aft on every passenger ship for defensive purposes, to shoot down the marauders that slew hundreds of men, women and children? No ship sailed without protecting rifles. Every ship was an armed ship.

Gore's resolution shut the seas against Americans. It would have hoisted the white flag of cowardice to Germany, it would have told Germany that we were afraid that she would commit an act of war, that she might sink a ship with Americans aboard and that we would deny ourselves the rights of a free people.

ALL FORCES JOIN HANDS TO PUT McADOO OUT OF THE RACE — EVIDENT THAT WILSON FORCES ARE IN SADDLE; THIS MAY MEAN NAMING A "DARK HORSE."

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Today's Democrat convention program:

Prayer by the Rev. Josiah Sibley, Calvary Presbyterian Church, San Francisco.

Resumption of call of states for presentation of presidential candidates.

Name of John W. Davis, West Virginia, ambassador to Great Britain, to be presented.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — A plank dealing with the League of Nations was adopted by the Democrat platform committee early this morning. A long bitter fight so delayed the platform workers that the committee recessed until 10 o'clock. Leaders hoped to have the platform ready for the convention this afternoon.

In the treaty battle the administration failed to secure adoption of its plank without amendment. The committee by a vote of 32 to 18 adopted an addition by Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, among those opposing the administration forces providing for ratification of the treaty of Versailles, with reservations consistent with American obligations.

The substitute planks of William Jennings Bryan and Senator Pomerene of Ohio and Walsh of Montana were thrown out. The committee adopted the labor and several other minor planks, but were so fatigued that they ceased work without taking up the liquor, Irish or other controverted questions.

The committee also put its approval on a declaration for legislation which would permit elective bargaining by farmers. On the prohibition issues the sub-committee made no recommendation and a big grist of proposed wet and dry proposals were offered with Mr. Bryan leading the dries in a determined crusade to keep the party from making a wet declaration or remaining silent on the prohibition issues.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Frankly admitting that William G. McAdoo seems to have the inside track on the race for the nomination, the inner circle of old line democrat leaders worked through the night devising means to stop his nomination and find a candidate who could command the necessary two thirds vote.

Champ Clark, former speaker of the house of representatives, who was denied the nomination at the Baltimore convention after repeatedly having received a majority, was being discussed by the old line leaders as a possibility about whom they might rally. The answer of the McAdoo people to that move was that, if an inner circle combination forestalled the nomination of the former secretary of the treasury, there would be disclosed another coalition which would produce a Wilson-backed darkhorse, who could make enough accession to win.

Managers for Cox and Palmer, when they figured in these discussions, invariably demanded to be shown that their candidates were out of the running. Former representative Carlin, Palmer's chief of staff, refused to concede that the attorney general could not be nominated and E. H. Moore, the Cox field marshal, said:

"This may be a grasshopper convention, but I haven't been informed as yet that any of the Cox delegates are going to jump."

By the Associated Press

AUDITORIUM, July 1. — At 11:20 o'clock Chairman Robinson called the democratic national convention to order for its fourth day's session. Whole sections in the state places were still unoccupied in some parts of the hall. The delegates, who were present wanted to talk rather than come to order and Chairman Robinson had to do some vigorous whacking to bring them to order.

Galleries filled early in expectation of a showy fight on the platform. The delegates came more slowly and at 11, the hour set for resuming the convention, the floor was only partly filled with chatting members.

New Mexico, first on the call, simply seconded the nomination of William G. McAdoo. It was the signal for the demonstration, which started in the galleries and spread to some delegates on the floor, but did not last long.

North Carolina sent W. C. Newland to the platform to place in nomination Senator Simmons, for whom the North Carolina delegation were instructed.

Mrs. Martha Nelson McCann of

California, made a seconding speech for Senator Simmons, merely saying:

"Ladies and gentlemen of the convention: I rise to second the nomination of Senator Simmons of North Carolina."

North Carolina passed and Oregon announced that the delegates joined the movement to draft the Honorable William G. McAdoo. The McAdoo boomers, helped out by the band, gave the signal for another brief demonstration.

Rhode Island passed, so did South Carolina, Tennessee and Texas, and Utah announced that it seconded the nomination of McAdoo.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Overnight conferences of the forces seeking to effect a combination to defeat the nomination of William G. McAdoo failed to reach an agreement on a candidate and their only accomplishment seemed to be a stiffening of determination to hold solid, if possible, a veto block of votes. As the counter move to meet the combination against McAdoo, administration forces were scouting for a "dark horse" of their own, who could break the combination if it proved effective.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, Senator Glass of Virginia and John W. Davis, ambassador to Great Britain, were all formally presented to the democratic national convention as presidential candidates during the first hour of its session today.

By the Associated Press
SAN FRANCISCO, July 1. — Convention members of the committee expressed the hope that they will be able to make a report to the convention late today, but as a fight is in prospect in the committee on the prohibition and Irish questions, and with another battle on the floor of the convention over these planks and the league of nations, leaders in control of the convention have stopped figuring as to when the first ballot would be taken. Balloting will not begin until the platform has been adopted.

3,000 NEW ORLEANS STREET CAR MEN QUIT

By the Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS, July 1. — Street car traffic was at a standstill here early today as a result of the strike of 3,000 employees of the New Orleans Railroad & Light company, which went into effect at midnight after the failure of union workers and the federal receiver of the company to reach an agreement. Deputy United States marshals were on guard at the car barns and power plants today. Soldiers stationed at the Jackson barracks will be called out in the event serious violence is threatened. It was announced.

"WELL, BOYS AND GIRLS, LET'S NAME MR. HARDING"

by the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, July 1. — The long hours of oratory that mark every national political convention may bore the tired delegates and spectators nearly to the point of exhaustion, but never kill their sense of humor. Occasionally a witty sentence or a quick rejoinder has been credited with having had a greater effect on the final result than all the oratory of the picked spellbinders.

At the recent republican gathering at Chicago, Frank B. Willis, former governor of Ohio, was nominating Senator Warren G. Harding for the presidency. Ohio was far down in the list. The 13,000 sweltering persons, who crowded the big Coliseum, had listened with only half interest to more than five hours of fervid oratory when Willis, closing his speech, said: "Well, boys and girls, let's nominate Harding."

The friendly humor brought a ready response. The next day when the landslide toward Harding began, an Ohio admirer of the senator who had inscribed the sentence on a huge sheet of cardboard dropped it from the gallery. It made an instantaneous hit.

Earlier in the contest, a negro delegate from Oklahoma, appearing before the credentials committee at 3 o'clock in the morning, put new life into that body and won his point by a remark. Having told how the "lily white" side had held its convention in a hotel from which negroes were barred by the proprietor, he said:

"Why, gentlemen, in Oklahoma there's 'Jim Crowism' from the henhouse to the hotel."

In the laugh that followed a motion to seat the contestant was carried unanimously. "Wild Woman" and "Wild Man" Make Wild Drive Today

Early this morning the residents of East Ada were awakened with the clamor of something of a mechanical nature together with the ruffling of a lot of tin and arose to find that a mysterious man and woman were making a race track of the streets of that section of the city.

No one seems to know who these people were and the only information they gave was that the party

GEN. ISAAC R. SUTTER

Democrat congressman from Idaho, Civil war veteran and one of the oldest members of the house, will be disappointed if there is anything in the rumor that may be made available to the main army.

were driving a Ford of the "shimmy" variety. The man was puffing an ill-smelling cigar and made many of the people who witnessed the performance think that a locomotive had left the Katy tracks with the intention of leaving the country.

Another thing that makes this occurrence seem quite unnatural is the fact that they did not talk or wave at anyone. Several tried to get the number of the car but stated that mud was on the license number and can't recall any car in this city that answered the description of this mysterious piece of mechanism that awakened them in the early hours of morning.

Who Said

"A Mugwump is a person educated beyond his intellect."

This definition of a "mugwump" was made by General Horace Porter during the Blaine-Cleveland campaign of 1896.

Horace Porter was the son of a former governor of his native state, Pennsylvania. He was born at Huntingdon in 1837, and after a year at Harvard University entered West Point. He graduated in 1860 and saw considerable service in the Civil War. When General Grant became secretary of war, General Porter became his assistant, and when Grant became president, General Porter was his private secretary.

After his service with General Grant, General Porter left public life and entered upon a business career, at which he was exceedingly successful. Railroad work was his line and he was at one time president of the Pullman company.

The Grant monument on Riverside Drive, New York, was largely made possible thru the efforts of General Porter, and the return of the remains of John Paul Jones to this country from France was also made possible thru his work while ambassador to France. General Porter spent $35,000 of his own money in this undertaking and refused to permit congress to reimburse him. In 1897 he published his work "Campaigning With Grant."

Beating the H. C. L.

Dear Editor:

Wife and I have gone into a new industry. She is raising cowpods but has to fight the bull nettles. She is going to raise buttercups to put butter in. I have a fine lot of milk weeds, and if peaches hit, we will have peaches and cream. She is raising rag weeds and is going to buy a hairroom and weave rag car pets.

I am raising hog weeds and thins! I will have a fine lot of hogs. Wife is raising eggs plants so she will have eggs to sell when the hens don't lay. I think we will have the H. C. L. beaten to a frazzle. But

BACK HURT ALL THE TIME

Mrs. Hill Says Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Removed The Cause.

Knoxville, Tenn.—"My back hurt me all the time, I was all run down, could not eat and my head bothered me, all caused by female trouble. I was three years with these troubles and doctors did me no good. Your medicine helped my sister so she advised me to take it. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the Liver Pills and used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash and now I am well, can eat heartily and work. I give you my thanks for your great medicines. You may publish my letter and I will tell everyone what your medicines did for me."—Mrs. PEARL HILL, 418 Jackboro St., Knoxville, Tennessee.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

If you are ill do not drag along and continue to suffer day in and day out but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a woman's remedy for woman's ills.

REMODELING SALE

And 18th Anniversary Celebration

July 3rd
to July
10th

THE SECOND story of our building will soon be completed and then comes the "awful job" of moving and rearranging stock. We have decided, rather than move this vast amount of goods, to inaugurate one of the biggest selling events that has taken place in Ada during the past year or so. We are not worrying about a break in the markets or a slump in the prices of goods for Fall, as the following extract from a letter from a well known wholesale house clearly defines the situation that now exists.

"Speaking broadly, commodity prices will not be lower before the spring of 1921, even if then. Not a few goods will be higher this fall than they are now. For more than six months every wholesaler has been contracting for his fall supplies at advanced costs. In many cases these goods could not be replaced today, if at all, only at still higher prices.

"We are intimate and first hand touch with all markets and it is our best judgment that the general level of commodity prices will rise somewhat before it starts on the inevitable decline."

THE EDITOR IN POLITICS

The big dailies of the country are now busy running editorials that appeared in the Marion (Ohio) Star during the campaign of 1912. Warren G. Harding was then as he is now editor of the Star, and in the great battle of eight years ago he loyally supported Taft against Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson.

Some of the Star editorials are sufficiently caustic to cause any former Bull Moose to do considerable twisting at the thought of supporting for president the author of those editorials. But the publication of the editorials from the Ohio daily reminds us of a remark made ten years ago by Col. R. A. Sneed, then of Lawton but now of Oklahoma City, when he said that an editor makes the poorest candidate in the world because he is on record on every public question.

Any editor who is alive to the responsibilities of his position and true to the duty he owes the public is on record on every public question. He lends all possible assistance to the reading world to help the world better understand the questions that interest the world. Frequently he is forced to write and publish his comment before all the truth is divulged. Then when the full truth is known he sees that his first position was wrong and he is under the embarrassing necessity of confessing his error and changing his position, thereby inviting criticism as a poor prophet and an inconsistent editor.

It is a curious anomaly of American politics that the most successful candidates are those whose views of great issues are least known. The most successful candidate is one who is best able to sidestep issues and conceal his real views. The editor by virtue of his position is not able to sidestep anything. He must take a stand on every question and very often he must change his position. For that reason he is very rarely chosen as a party candidate, and when he is chosen he is embarrassed every inch of the way by what he has written and published. Senator Harding as a politician may wish that some of his attacks on Roosevelt had never been published, but as editor he knows that it was necessary for him to publish those articles in order to play true to his readers.

TYPICAL GORE CAMPAIGNING (Muskogee Phoenix)

We were well aware that the Gore managers had grown desperate in their attempts to bolster up their losing cause. We knew, as the citizens of Oklahoma know, that they had resorted to lies about their own candidate and falsehoods concerning his opponent. We knew that their entire campaign had been one of trickery and deceit. But even their most disgusted friends and enemies would have scarcely dared believe that they would have been guilty of their latest action.

It may not have been bribery; some men sell their honor and their loyalty to those whom they serve for a mess of pottage. But their latest "coup," as they are wont to consider it, was dishonest. It was treachery; it was typical "Gore" stuff. And by it we may judge Gore's record and Gore's campaign.

There appeared in the "Home edition" of the Sunday Oklahoman an editorial entitled "The Amende Honorable." It retracted, almost in their entirety the things the Oklahoman, in its battle for Americanism, had said of Gore, it exonerated him from all charges of disloyalty to his government; it white washed him from head to toe. It made the Oklahoman say that there was no truth in the Gore records as that newspaper had published them.

The editorial did not appear in the early edition of the Oklahoman which serves the eastern side of the state. There was sufficient reason for that. At the hour that edition went to press Walter Harrison, the Oklahoman's managing editor, was still at his desk. But after he had gone home for the night a subordinate, who had just a short time before been in conference with Gore's managers, inserted the back-crawling editorial. And then this subordinate left the city. He is still a fugitive from justice. The Oklahoman has offered a reward for his apprehension.

Mr. Harrison and others in charge of the Oklahoman did not know such a thing had been contemplated until they read their own paper next day. Now Mr. Gore is publishing the editorial as paid advertising throughout the state. His managers have caused a man to turn traitor, to be disloyal to whom he served—they have stolen the good name and the honor of the Daily Oklahoman and now they seek to barter that honor and prestige under the mask of a lie.

The Oklahoman, on its front page, will expose the whole miserable treachery today. As the Oklahoman will say: "It is typical of the Gore campaign."

WALT MASON'S RHYME

The Road Hog

I wonder what the road hog thinks, as he goes on his way, detested by all mortal ginks, and cursed by night and day. He surely hates the human race, as down the road he swings, and in his heart there is no place for kindly, friendly things. We have our little petter carts, and we would sing and smile, if the road hogs did not break our hearts each quarter of a mile. The road hog loafs along, alas, when we hunk our horn, beseeching room enough to pass he grins with maudlin scorn. Around the risky curves he flies, and thinks he's in the swim; the rules that govern decent guys have little weight with him. Some day the fool will break his neck, but ere that day arrives, a dozen autos he may wreck, or spoil a dozen lives. And as I watch him drive his barge, and weave and spurt and turn, I wonder why he is at large, when there are jails to burn. I wonder why a man is fined ten dollars or ten days for shooting road hogs and their kind, along the public ways.

DAILY OKLAHOMAN IS BETRAYED BY EMPLOYEE

ple, to knuckle under the Prussian mandate. The Gore defense is camouflage. The armed ship resolution rightfully belongs to the junior senator's catalogue of obstructive war actions.
Senator John Sharp Williams, speaking against the Gore resolution, pages 3407-3408, Congressional Record, March 2, 1916, said: "The time has come when for me, at any rate, the question states itself in this way: Shall I exclaim 'America first,' or shall I sing 'Deutschland uber Alles?' * * * Bring on your Gore resolution * * * and let a motion be made to table it and see whether or not senators are going to assume the responsibility before the American people of standing against the president upon a proposition where he stands upon a principle of international law 500 years old!"
The Daily Oklahoman repeats that it owes Senator Gore no apology. The Daily Oklahoman's fight is based upon the record of votes cast as reported by the Congressional Record.
No act of a Judas, no political trickery, no irregular scheme based on deception and fraud, can efface the indelible scars of Senator Gore's record.
The apology should come from Senator Gore for having the effrontery to campaign Oklahoman for an endorsement of his flagrant actions of the past.

HOUSE OF LORDS SCENE FEATURE OF "MIRACLE OF LOVE"

It took three weeks to erect the elaborate "set" of the British House of Lords for "The Miracle of Love," the new picture on view at the Liberty Theater today. Over three hundred "extras," all British, take part in the scene, and over three-quarters of them have actually been in the House of Parliament in London and listened to the debates. They declared that the reproduction is faithful in every detail. Lester J. Vermilyea, art director of Cosmopolitan productions, is responsible for the work, and based his ideas upon a detailed set of drawings which he worked out from his personal observation of the House of Lords and from architectural books.

"The Miracle of Love" is a stirring story of British high life, with Wyndham Standing and Lucy Cotton in the chief parts. The hero is a younger son of a British noble family who is about to renounce his career as an idle and impetuous lord and seek his fortune on the side of England, when he suddenly becomes heir to a death of his elder brother. A love story has been worked into the plot, which is said to abound in thrilling situations.

JUDGE H. J. BROWN FOR RE-ELECTION

In this issue of the Evening News appears the announcement of H. J. Brown as a candidate for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace, subject to the action of the Democratic primary, August 3. Judge Brown has held the office of justice of the peace in Ada so long that he has come to be regarded as a permanent part of our local judicial machinery. He has tried as many cases as any justice in Oklahoma, possibly, and by his fairness and courtesy has won the friendship of every one who has business in the local courts. It would not be possible to get a better man for this position, a fact that the public has long since come to recognize, and the nomination and election of Judge Brown has come to be accepted as a matter of course.

Known to all the people of Ada and esteemed by all Judge Brown presents himself to them as a candidate for another term. The Evening News asks its readers to give careful consideration to his candidacy.

SUITS BOUGHT NOW MAY DO FOR FALL

Women who watch the summer sales carefully may pick up many a bargain which will serve for late fall and winter wear. Perhaps the most practical buy is the coat or suit which is offered at reduced prices now that the regular spring season is over. These may be worn in early or late fall and even in winter. The suit, particularly the eaton styles, are very good for fall and winter wear. They may serve on any number of occasions during the summer months and then they make attractive street suits with dark vests or blouses for fall. For winter they may be worn under the top coat or fur coat as frocks with a pretty little tulle and dainty neckwear to set them off.

Here is a very smart eiton suit which was offered in a reduction sale recently. The style makes it a particularly good investment for there is nothing extreme about it and yet it is distinctive. It is made of navy tricot with a plain skirt, but the eiton jacket is trimmed with novel patches of embroidery. Here a dark silk tricolette vest with much embroidery in gold and black finishes the costume. The collar, which may button up high about the neck, is a good feature which will be useful in the fall.

Tulsa to visit his mother. He will

Mrs. T. B. Blake, Sr. and Mrs. T.
B. Blake, Jr. entertained elaborately on Wednesday with an "At Home" dance in the evening for the young people. A detailed report will appear in the society column Saturday.

Someone Is Going To Suffer For This With Puff Expression

She was rather full—just the kind that made the "preacher lay his Bible down," she had been "bumped into something."

And then she took her troubles to the city days. Perhaps she had been attracted by her reflection in a plate glass window at the Model store. Well, one's hat may be awry. And one's furs may not be on straight. Furs? Gracious me, yes quite the proper thing, don'tcher know. A nice spiffy little choker. Just the thing these days.

Anyhow, she wanted to know if "the law allowed merchants to endanger lives with crazy old awnings."

Some misguided individual volunteered the information that awnings are required to clear the sidewalk at least eight feet.

"Eight feet," she ejaculated. "Stupid. How dare you insinuate—" and then she fled, vigorously applying a powder puff, with a parting word—always a last word—"someone is going to suffer for this."

If you cannot eat heartily without an attack of indigestion, your stomach is weak. You need Prickly Ash Bitters. It is a fine digestive tonic. Besides, it rids the stomach and bowels of the impurities which make you feel bad. Price $1.25 per bottle. Gwin-Mays Drug Co., special agents.

RAINBOW VETERANS INVITE FRENCH WARRIOR TO MEETING

A special request has been communicated to the French government by the Rainbow division veterans' association asking that General Gouraud, commander of the Fourth French army during the Champagne offensive in July, 1918, be granted leave to attend the division convention and reunion in Birmingham July 12, 13 and 14. The veterans also want Capt. Maurice Drouhin, military attaché to the 167th (Alabama) Infantry, to be permitted to attend. General Collardet, French military attaché to the United States, has designated Lieut. Vincent de Wierzbicki to represent the French government at the reunion.

The reunion in Birmingham marks the second anniversary of the defense in the Champagne sector in July of 1918 when the German army made its last desperate drive for Chalons and Paris. The Rainbow division was the only American unit that took part in this defensive by the Fourth French army, and it was on this occasion that the 167th Infantry from Alabama was dubbed "Les Tigres" by their French comrades. The Alabama veterans will entertain the entire division during the convention at Birmingham.

On July 5th the American legion will stage a picnic at the city lake. Every kind of good clean amusement will be held on this occasion. Boating and swimming, boxing exhibitions and the regular carnival shows. Your buddy will be there.

Vernon stated yesterday that he had delivered all discharges with the exception of a few and soldiers who have not received them can see him at any time in the city (or at the normal.)

Colonels, majors and captains servedchow to buck privates during a get-together meeting of former service men at Ellensburg, Wash. The reason why the colonels, majors and captains were put on k. p. was that there were no generals or admirals available for the job when the bugler blew mess call. It is reported, however, that the bucks were satisfied.

Boleslaw Growhowski Post, of Bridesburg, Pa., showed no symptoms of spring fever during May. On May 3 the post entertained 1,300 guests at a ball and made $593. On May 6 it gave a parade which got thirty-six new members. On May 16 a public mass meeting was held to acquaint the town with legion plans. The post now is considering methods to obtain a memorial home. — American Legion News.

Why not have a show like this in Ada?

In Formation.

"Whatcher doin' Buddy?" queried the private, bursting into the dugout where his companion was busily engaged in a shirt hunt. "Gettin' rid of coolies?"

"Gettin' rid of nothin'," snapped back the other. "I'm just countin' 'em off into squads. There was gettin' to be too many on duty at once."

Plenty of cars will be turned into jitneys to haul people to the lake.

The new road to the lake thru A. B. Meyers' place will be open Monday, providing you close the gate after you.

Disturbing Peace Was the Charge Against Citizen

Homer T. Carney was assessed $14.75 in police court yesterday on a charge of disturbing the peace. He was arrested by the police near the Katy depot and is said to have been rather noisy as a result of having on a comfortable cargo of whiskey. When taken to the police station he resisted an attempt to search his grip and was locked up in the city cooler for a short season.

school men known as the Ancient and Beneficent Order of the Red, Red Rose.

Whereas, such order originated among certain school men whose native habitat was in the vicinity of the classical city of Durant, Oklahoma, U. S. A., Bryan County, and more specifically in the immediate precincts of that classical institution of learning, the Southeastern State Normal.

Whereas, the rights, lights and benefits of this order proved to have the pabulum, both mental and physical, that school men need, and the originators thrived thereon.

Whereas, the same school men who composed the mother, father or parent concave of the Ancient and Beneficent Order of the Red, Red Rose for succeeding generations to the end of time, had the generous and kindly social instincts that all good school men have.

Whereas, the same mentioned school men, not being selfish, desire that other school men of the state, nation, and ultimately the entire world, should share in the bequests of the Old Man.

Whereas, this benevolent spirit became known among certain other school men in the vicinity of that classical sister city of Ada, Oklahoma, U. S. A., Pontotoc County, and in the sister institution for the dissemination of learning and teaching the young idea how to shoot.

Whereas, the latter group of school men prayed and petitioned the former and the foreclosed group to institute and establish a concave of the before mentioned and alluded to order of the Red, Red Rose, in the precincts of the second mentioned institution of learning hereinbefore mentioned in this document.

Whereas, the school men of the first mentioned and briefly alluded to institution heard and hearkened to the prayer and petition of the parties of the second part.

Whereas, nineteen school men of Conclave Number 1 and others on a certain agreed upon, to-wit: June 25 Anno Domini 1920, appeared on the scene armed with the implements of their office.

Whereas, in brief, Conclave Number 11 of the Ancient and Beneficent Order of the Red, Red Rose, was instituted and established and the constitution was duly signed.

Whereas, since the departure of the visiting brethren the Metamorphosed Neophytes are beholding how pleasant it is for brethren to meet together in unity.

Whereas, on this long to be remembered and never to be forgotten occasion the visiting brethren displayed and exemplified such generosity, such cordiality, such courtesy, such general good fellowship, and such genuine school men brotherliness;

Therefore, be it resolved by Conclave Number 11 of the Ancient and Beneficent Order of the Red, Red Rose, that we extend to the visiting Conclave Number 1 of Durant and other visiting brethren our sincerest appreciation and thanks.

Witness our signatures, the same as heretofore appended to the constitution:

One of the popular Eagle Shirt Fabrics

Many a man relegates his buying to his wife—together with his property, religion and attendance upon symphony concerts.

He gets the same shirts, either way. He chooses Eagle Shirts because of their distinctiveness of pattern. She finds that these shirts are woven and made so admirably that she'd pick them even if she wasn't sure he'd like their patterns.

Eagle Shirts are the product of a maker who knows that beauty is only skin deep—and so weaves into the fabrics the stuff that quality is made of.
